Practical Information

About France and Corsica

Visas

Visas are not required for citizens of most European countries, permanent residents of a Schengen state, as well as for a series of other countries. If you need a visa a personal invitation letter may be necessary (see annex documents right below), which you may request from the Organizing Committee. Conditions such as the remaining validity of your passeport may also apply. Here are some documents to assist you. We leave it under your responsibility that you check that these conditions still hold at the time of your departure.

Full legal information about entering France from the French embassy. Do you need a visa?: details from the French Embassy. Please check carefully that the dates for the visa include the full range of the School! Holders of permanent residence permits issued by a member Schengen state can enter without a visa. The residence permit and passport should be valid at least 90 days after the entry date.

On these pages you will find information about France and Corsica, your venue to Corsica and the School center, practical information for the school duration.

Practical information

Euro is the only currency in use.

Power plugs and sockets are on the Europlug compatible standard (eg as in France or Germany), voltage 220V.

EHIC: European Health Insurance Card. This card is free and allows attendees coming from European member states to receive medical treatment for free or at a reduced cost. Probably to be requested from your provider of health insurance.

Your travel

◇ The closest airport to the conference site is Ajaccio Napoléon Bonaparte airport (AJA), 50 km south of Cargèse. While Paris and Nice may be the most convenient interchanges for flights connections, notice that Paris Orly and Paris CDG airports are far from each other.

◇ Boat: you may also decide to take the boat from Marseille (company Corsica Linea and La Méridionale) or Toulon or Nice (company Corsica Ferries), overnight, and reach Ajaccio.

◇ At the airport, Atout.com company will be in charge of welcoming you, and accompanied you to the organized « shuttles conference » which will drive you to the conference center. A departure shuttle service will also be organized by the conference.

◇ Alternative way to reach Cargèse is a public bus leaving from the central bus station, near Ajaccio port. See the official and unofficial websites .

◇ Welcoming: All participants reaching Cargèse with the shuttle buses of the School will be welcome. You will be taken directly to your location of accommodation, school site or Cargèse village.

Registration procedure

IESC propose an on line registration service. This one could be in a two-step procedure:

- ◇ The application process (phase 1)
 - On <https://iesc.universita.corsica/?lang=en>, Registration, On line registration, select the event concerned and your profil.
 - Fill in all the fields. Your account is register. You will received confirmation email with login, passwork
- ◇ The registration process (phase 2).

During the application phase 1, applicants are requested to fill in an application form that is submitted to the Organization Committee. Applicants will be selected upon their research interest, their academic status and, possibly, their publication list. For PhD students and Post-Docs, the name of the scientific supervisor should be provided.

After confirmation of their selection, all applicants have to complete the registration process (phase 2). Information such as accommodation in Cargese, personal diet, travel information (from and to the Ajaccio airport), accompanying person(s) will then be registered.

Registration fees (if applicable) should be paid at the registration phase 2. An e-mail will be sent to the participants.

It's really important to give the correct information about your travel. The bus departure time depends of your answer

Will the bus wait?* The bus departs is scheduled and will not wait.

For people arriving to Cargese on their own (car, public bus, etc.) :

Please be at the Institute at the arrival time of the buses. Institute's staff will guide you to your accomodation. Please note that if the arrival day is on Sunday, the Institute is closed.

It is thus very important to be at the Institute at the time where the Institute's staff comes in order to have a place to sleep overnight.

For people leaving Cargese before the end of the workshop :

Always the organizers are not able to provide free transportation to the airport if you are leaving Cargese before the end of the school. However, your can approach Cargese Institute's staff to book a taxi because we make you benefit from a reduced taxi rate and there may be another participants to share a taxi with you.

Facilities

The premises of the Institute are spread across three groups of buildings.

In the central buildings (1), are located the administrative structures, the restaurant, a conference room and a meeting room. Around the amphitheater (2) are located 2 offices, 2 meeting rooms for 20 to 30 people and 2 organizer's office equipped with computer and printer.

A third building (3) constructed in 2011 according to the most modern energy saving criteria is exclusively dedicated to housing. A common kitchen room, public rest rooms and showers are also available there.

The villa Menasina is located about 500 meters from the central buildings. It is the historic site, where the first meetings were held in the sixties. Today it is in general reserved for the organizers and their families.

Housing, for the duration of the school only, will be arranged by the staff of the Institut who will do its best to respect your preferences

Accommodation info

The Institute housing facilities on site include 26 double rooms, a studio and a villa (for 2-6 persons). Three rooms are fully accessible to persons with reduced mobility.

Participants are often lodged in the village of Cargèse, in studios to 3 bedrooms apartments. A 20 minutes walk is required to reach the Institute from the village, it is therefore necessary to provide proper footwear and a flashlight for night returns.

The Institute provides lunches and breakfasts to all participants.

Evening meals are not included in the forfait of the Institute (with the exception of one barbecue and one welcome cocktail). Participants should autonomously take care for evening meals.

Arrival

At your arrival you will be welcome by the staff of IESC. They will give you information about your lodging and accompany you to your accommodation if you are lodged in the village.

ATTENTION : Concerning shared room. In case of late arrival of one of the participants and in order to avoid anyone stays locked out, the rooms stay open. The participants get the keys next morning at the secretary office.

« Lodging information will be given upon your arrival »

Lodging and food

Accommodation will be split between the school site (near the sea shore) and the village. The habit is that the speakers are in hotels, the organizers are in the villa at the school site, and the students are split between rooms at the school site and appartements in the village.

Laundry (automatic washing machines) are available in the accommodation building at the school site,.

The washing agent is provided with a reasonable limited quantity

Kitchen facilities are available, as an alternative to bars and restaurants. Do not forget to clean after using Shops are available in the village.

During your staying, we will ask you to check and confirm your previously communicated departure information in order to organize the departure shuttles.

Taxis can be also booked if necessary.

A list will be displayed at the entrance hall

Packing for Cargèse
